CAREER STATEMENT

I am a skilled junior plastic surgeon with a successful track record of numerous surgeries, including complex procedures such as neck dissections and breast reconstruction. I am committed to delivering exceptional patient care by utilizing advanced technical skills while maintaining a compassionate approach to ensure optimal outcomes. My clinical PhD research focused on the effectiveness of ICG (indocyanine green) in breast cancer, which has further honed my expertise in the field. Seeking to leverage this extensive background, I am eager to integrate into the Australasian healthcare system and have familiarized myself with the local medical practices to ensure seamless integration, prioritizing patient safety and comfort.
